Director's Commentary:

Dr. Siegel is internationally eminent as an Art Therapist, who has established programs and taught her skills not only as a tenured Professor and the prestigious Pratt Institute in New York, but also in the Dominican Republic, Chile, Argentina, South Africa and the United Kingdom. Having trained at the International Centre for Arts Psychotherapy Training and Research, as well as the Tavistock's Centre for Couple Relations, she is a certified Child and Adolescent Psychotherapist with a speciality in parent-infant and couple therapy. The paper she has submitted as her Doctoral Project, published in American Imago, is exemplary of the quality of her thinking and her skills at therapeutic intervention. Along with her Doctoral Project, Dr. Siegel is making available herein her excellent paper on "Going on Being through the Kinesthetic Senses of Art Therapy." The Parkmore Institute is honoured to award Dr. Siegel the degree of Doctor of Psychosocial Studies.
